RUTH PADDISON SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Fact Sheet

DESCRIPTION

Ruth Paddison, a native of Blytheville, Arkansas, and a long-time resident of Asheville, passed away on February 20, 2007 at the age of 80. Though not an Asheville native, Ms. Paddison grew up in the area and graduated from Lee Edwards (now Asheville) High School in 1943. She then attended Converse College and Tulane University, graduating with a degree in social work.

Quiet and unassuming, Ms. Paddison was a generous supporter of the causes she believed in, many of which were educational in nature. Upon her death, many were pleased to discover that she had remembered them generously in her will.

Deeply committed to education, to young people, and to bettering life for western North Carolina residents, Ms. Paddison's estate enabled The Community Foundation of Western North Carolina to set up the Ruth Paddison Scholarship Fund. The fund's purpose is to provide scholarship awards to Madison County students seeking to continue their education.

The recipient will receive a payment designation form from the Foundation in the summer. Payments will be issued after the Foundation receives the completed form, but no earlier than the end of July. Awards are for the full academic year, and as such are split between the fall and spring terms.

Students must notify The Community Foundation of the receipt of any other educational grants or scholarship assistance as soon as the student receives notification of those awards.
